Landings Bird Cam

Last year, Skidaway Audubon had a camera installed above a bald eagle nest in a tree at The Landings on Skidaway Island. The eagle pair from last season did not, however, reoccupy the nest this season. Good real estate rarely goes to waste, though, and the nest was adopted by a pair of Great Horned Owls, who are now raising two tiny owlets!

The live streaming feed is available HERE, where you can watch the comings and goings of the adults and the little feathery bundles that are their young.

Read up on these fascinating birds at the Cornell Lab of Ornithology site and more about the story at the Savannah Morning News. Listen to a Great Horned Owl call HERE.
