Savannah Coastal Refuges Complex Welcomes New Staff

In September, the Savannah Coastal Refuges Complex will welcome two new members to the staff. Both newcomers are veteran US Fish and Wildlife Service employees filling slots vacated by recently retired staff members (hope you are enjoying retirement Jane and Peter!)

Holly Gaboriault (no photo yet) will serve as the new Project Leader for the complex. For the past two years Holly has served as Refuge Supervisor overseeing the Arctic, Alaska Marine, and other National Wildlife Refuges in Alaska. Prior to her service in Alaska, Holly served as Deputy Region Supervisor for Area II in Region 4 based in Atlanta, so the geographic change shouldn't be such a big adjustment for her.

Also coming to us from Alaska will be Joel Vos, who will join the Visitor Services staff as Environmental Education Specialist. He is currently stationed at Alaska Maritime NWR.
